

From The New Hope Gazette, August 7, 2003

Celebrating Two Community Fixtures

By Scott Edwards

Renny Reynolds and Jack Staub hosted a reception Saturday at their beautiful Hortulus Farm estate in Wrightstown to both celebrate the 80th birthday of Hilde Wachtel and honor Fisherman's Mark, mainstays in the New hope-Lambertville, N.J. community.

Friends and family of Wachtel's dined on hors d'oeuvres from Hamilton's Grill Room and enjoyed cocktails in a plush garden setting.

Fisherman's Mark continues to benefit more and more of those in need in Bucks and Hunterdon Counties as its list of social services grows. Last year alone, it provided 20,000 free meals and dressed hundreds of children and adults.

Proceeds raised from Saturday's reception are being put toward the establishment and construction of The Hildegard Wachtel Youth Services Center planned at Fisherman's Mark in Lambertville.